

MFMII Kids' Choir Director

Lydia Concepcion, is the new Choir Director of the MFMII Kids' Choir. She is a graduate of the UST (University of Santo Tomas Conservatory of Music) with a Bachelor of Music degree, with a major in Music Education and minor in Piano and Voice.

Her first music assignment was Music Coordinator of PCU (Philippine Christian University) Elementary as well as the choir trainer and director of the multi-awarded PCU Little Singers for 13 years.

She migrated to the US in 2002, and now teaches private piano and voice lessons. Some of her former students are now performing at StarStruck, Aaaahz Youth Theatre, members of choirs touring around the country, and some serve as pianists in their respective churches.

Some of the choirs she has directed over the years are WIN Newark Church Children's Choir, JGS Anglican Church Children's Choir, Genesis UMC Children's Choir and presently, the Pathway Community Church Children's Choir.

Lydia joined MFMII in the fall of 2014 and served as docent at Niles Elementary School teaching some of the 4th and 6th graders. She is also one of the members of the MFMII training team. Seeing her students perform at their best and enjoying what they are doing is truly a great accomplishment for her, being a music teacher.
